There is considerable talk among amateur oarsmen about the annual scramble for dates for regattas and the clashing of one club's interests with those of another, much to the disadvantage of those directly concerned and the sport itself.

George McVer, President of the Grand Lodge of the Plano-Makers, is at present in Philidelphia, where he spoke to a mass meeting of plano-makers on Monday.

the objective points towards which all the clubs turn for their annual regattas. The dissatisfied ones claim that there should be some arrangement made by which the interests of the several clubs could be pooled and a number of joint regattas given, which would be a beginning at least towards a better permanent arrangement.

Judge Tighe, Captain of the Varuna Boat Club, in giving his opinion on the subject said: "It is true that in years past the holidays have been very heavily loaded with regattas, but I think that this year things will be different. The matter will be fully discussed by the Middle States Engatta Asset.

The Hogan-Pilmmer fight is over, but as usual when both men are able to stand up at the end of the game a great deal of dissatisfaction exists. Both contestants appeared in excellent condition last night. Hogan was really no match for Pilmmer.

He showed plenty of pluck and nerve, however, and those qualities kept him right along with his opponent until the stipulated eighth round was finished, and Reteree Warren Lewis called the contest a draw. Pilmmer showed himself a great general, but wasted time in the early rounds playing for the "Kid's" what. When the Baseball League meets next month to adopt its schedule for 1892 there will be a great hustling by the different clubs to capture the holiday dates at home. The question which will get the bulk of attention is the double championship scheme.
